Sharing Its *SEA*crets

Why Choose Sea Buckthorn?

Sea buckthorn has the highest naturally occurring concentration of the rare omega-7 fatty acid (palmitoleic acid). Omega-7s exist in some cold-water fish, macadamia nuts, and avocados; however, not in concentrations feasible for extraction. The presence of omega-7 is among the key contributors to the resilience of these clusters of stunning orange berries. These thorn-laden bushes inhabit some of the harshest, most unforgiving climates of the world. It's no mystery how beneficial sea buckthorn fruit and seed oil supplementation can be to so many aspects of your health when you consider omega-7 fatty acids are present in all body tissues.

#1604 · Sea Buckthorn Seed Oil

(topical liquid)

Each bottle contains:

Organic sea buckthorn (Hippophae rhamnoides) seed oil,
CO₂ supercritical extract, nondeodorized 30 ml
with added organic rosemary (Rosmarinus officinalis) extract.
OM0124-R1

Directions of use:

Place 5–8 drops in your hand and gently massage the oil on your face and neck. Larger body parts may require more oil. Best applied on moist skin, such as following a shower or bath.

Manufactured under strict GMP (Good Manufacturing Practices).

#3394 · Sea Buckthorn Berry Oil Mask

Ingredients:

Organic sea buckthorn (Hippophae rhamnoides) berry oil, CO₂ supercritical extract, nondeodorized, with added organic rosemary (Rosmarinus officinalis) leaf extract.
OM0125-R1

Directions of use:

Adults: Place 10–15 drops in your hand and gently massage into skin, avoiding contact with nearby fabrics and objects as it will stain. Wash hands after application. Allow the oil to absorb for at least 20 minutes, up to 2 hours. Wash away colour pigment and excess oil, then pat dry using a cloth designated for skin-care use, as staining may still occur.

Manufactured under strict GMP (Good Manufacturing Practices).
